

NEUWEG

Single Use Surgical Laser Fibre Series

Precision, Efficiency, and Patient Care

Experience the performance benefits of Neuweg's medical fibres.
With high flexibility, low power loss, excellent wavelength transmission capabilities.

Advantages

Excellent transmission for optimal tissue interaction

Durable and robust

Exceptional power output for fast and effective treatments

Flexible fibres for enhanced maneuverability

Universal compatibility with 2 μm solid state laser systems with standard SMA-905 Connector

- Accurate and precise fibre concentricity
- Wide range of laser fibre diameters to enable wide variety of procedures
- Spherical fibre tip for instrument protection
- Sterile packed

Neuweg is an experienced laser technology firm with Engineering knowledge of applying laser technology from the laserhead to the light target.

Our high-quality fibres are meticulously engineered to deliver exceptional performance, reliability, and safety in various medical applications.
