

NEUWEG

Re-usable Surgical Laser Fibre Series

Precision, Efficiency, and Patient Care

Experience the performance benefits of our medical fibres with high flexibility, low power loss and excellent wavelength transmission.

Advantages

Excellent transmission for optimal tissue interaction

Durable and robust

Exceptional power output for fast and effective treatments

Flexible fibres for enhanced maneuverability

Universal compatibility with 2 μm solid state laser systems with standard SMA-905 Connector

- Accurate and precise fibre concentricity
- Protective sheathing for enhanced durability
- Wide range of laser fibre diameters to enable wide variety of procedures
- Autoclaveable

Neuweg is an experienced laser technology firm with engineering knowledge in the application of laser technology from the laserhead to the light target.

Our high-quality fibres are meticulously engineered to deliver exceptional performance, reliability, and safety in various medical applications.
